

NOVEMBER 2019 £4.99

THE WORLD OF INTERIORS

BEHIND THE FASHION FANTASY

Tim Walker's private country-house album

DISCO TECH Hi-energising
a drab 1970s flat near Turin

VITAL LINES

Opulent Art Deco meets strict Rationalism in the Padiglione delle Feste, a historic thermal spa in northern Italy where the faithful have long flocked to be pampered and revived. With its large expanses of marble and mosaic, terracotta and travertine, it also makes a suitably splendid (temporary) resting place for pieces that first took the air at the Milan furniture fair. Jessica Hayns gives them the full treatment. Production assistant: Viola Lanari. Photography: Bill Batten

From left: natural ash 'MHC.3 Miss' chair, by Afra & Tobia Scarpa, £994, Molteni & C. 'Magazine' table, by Jen Risom, £439 approx, Fredericia Furniture; topped with 'Lab' lamp, by Karakter, £580 approx, Cassina. 'Sen' coffee table, by Kensaku Oshiro, from £739, De Padova. 'Ombra' chair, by Piero Lissoni, £1,596 approx, Lema. 'Sen' low coffee table, by Kensaku Oshiro, £914, De Padova. 'Spaghetti' chair, by Giandomenico Belotti for Alias, £260 approx; 'Seconda' chair (foreground), by Mario Botta for Alias, £1,161 approx; both Coexistence. Natural 'Cross' flatpack chair, by Pearson Lloyd, from £203 approx, Takt. Black ash 'MHC.3 Miss' chair, by Afra & Tobia Scarpa, £994, Molteni & C. All prices include VAT. For suppliers' details see Address Book ▷

